OKLAHOMA HEALING

DEPARTMENT

Afraid to be Clean.

An Oklahoma merchant in a country town, after he had been notified three times to clean up his store, said to an inspector of the State Board of Health: "I have grown rich running this store in the way of which you complain. If I should clean up I would lose most of my yardage, for the bulk of my customers would object to any change. They would not feel comfortable in a clean store." But the inspector made the merchant clean up, from floor to ceiling.

Heading Off Typhoid.

Inspectors are reporting to State Commissioner of Health John W. Duke that because of the luxuriant growth this year they find it difficult to secure the removal of piles of rotting vegetation in the alleys and vacant lots in a number of towns, and that in such towns there is a fine prospect of typhoid epidemics this fall and winter. The expenditure of a reasonable sum of money by municipal authorities at the right time in protecting the health of their citizens is a whole lot better than the expenditure of larger sums in fighting the disease after it has gained headway.

Immunity from Typhoid.

Persons in vigorous health now protect themselves against typhoid just as they do against smallpox, the vaccine being easily administered by physicians. Three immunizing doses usually safeguard a person for two to three years. The State Board of Health at Guthrie will provide this serum free of cost to persons who are unable to bear the expense, and it is prepared at all times to render immediate service to communities where there are typhoid outbreaks.

Safeguarding Against Lockjaw.

Persons having wounds that are likely to produce tetanus, or lockjaw, can prevent such a result by receiving an immunizing dose of tetanus antitoxin. After lockjaw has developed, its cure is practically hopeless. This antitoxin costs five dollars a dose, and is furnished free of cost by the State Board of Health at Guthrie to persons unable to bear the expense. Tetanus is never contracted through the use of this antitoxin. Authentic cases developing after inoculation are always due to infection of the wound after vaccination. The United States government in the last thirteen years has specifically examined for the organisms of tetanus sufficient vaccine to inoculate more than 2,000,000 persons, and not in a single instance was the presence of tetanus bacilli established. Army and navy records show that in eleven years none of the eight cases of tetanus occurring during that time was traceable to the 582,000 vaccinations performed. Where there is danger of tetanus infection safety lies in vaccination at the earliest possible moment.

A World Benefactor.

Dr. Paul Ehrlich, discoverer of salvarsan, or "606," and known as one of the world's greatest pathologists, died lately at his home in Hamburg. Dr. Ehrlich decided to fund, if possible, a dread that would cure completely the dread disease of syphilis with a single treatment. Salvarsan was the result. One injection into any infected rabbit causes the spirochetes to disappear immediately and permanently. A record of more than ten thousand cases of persons infected with syphilis shows that salvarsan effected speedy cures. Salvarsan is derived largely from arsenic, its effects are powerful, and should be administered only by skilled physicians.

Driving Typhoid from Oklahoma.

The prediction is made by scientists that by 1920 typhoid will be a rare disease, and that if the death rate has been cut in two in the past fifteen years by reason of sanitation, it should be possible practically to stamp out the disease by vaccine treatment which causes no danger and little discomfort. In the United States there were 556 cases to every 100,000 men before inoculation was made compulsory, after which the number of cases dropped to three in every 100,000. Every citizen and every community in Oklahoma may easily obtain this protection of life and health. The State Board of Health at Guthrie is asking for statewide co-operation of citizens in driving typhoid from Oklahoma.

ANONYMOUS LETTER ABOUT SHOOTING OF KEMP BOY

The News has received a letter from Kemp regarding the shooting of Chester Ogden of that place, by an officer, Mr. Finney, several days ago. The letter bears no signature. The party who wrote the communication at first signed it, but afterward retracted the signature. The News cannot under any circumstances give space to anonymous communications, especially so when they concern so delicate a subject as the shooting of one man by another. The fact that the writer's name is erased, while it may indicate merely that the writer shuns publicity, may mean other things. If persons desire communications published they should sign their names as an indication of good faith. Otherwise the names need not be published.

ABOUT TAKING UP ESTRAY STOCK

Read these instructions carefully before taking up or posting an estray and save time, trouble and expense.

No one but a legal voter in the school district in which he or she lives can post an estray.

You violate the law if you take up an estray and do not post it.

Anyone guilty of taking up unlawfully an estray or removing it, or violating or failing to comply with the estray laws, is liable to a fine of ten dollars to five hundred dollars.

You cannot legally take up an estray if its mark and brand is recognized.

You cannot legally take up an estray until it has been an estray running at large for six months. Hogs or sheep three months.

When you decide to post an estray write the county clerk for notices.

He will send you four notices and a bond.

Fill out the four notices and post two at your nearest post office and mail the other two to the county clerk.

Sixty days or more after posting the notices, get two land owners, who are citizens of your county and who are personally acquainted with the county clerk, to sign the bond with you for twice the value of the estray.

Bring the bond and a witness who knows the estray as well as you do, and the fee of $1.75 with you into the office of the county clerk.

Yourself and witness make affidavit and deliver bond to county clerk, the fee for which will be $1.75, which must be paid in advance.

County clerk will take and give you his notice.

Have county clerk's notice published three times in your newspaper.

Yourself and editor make affidavit to proof of publication. Clip one notice from newspaper and attach to affidavit.

Mail affidavit of proof of publication to county clerk.

Six months after posting first notice, three months if hogs or sheep, send the county clerk fifty cents for certificate of authority to sell.

Make notice of your intention to sell and mail it to county clerk to be posted at court house door.

You cannot sell estray until ten days from date of county clerk's certificate of authority to sell.

You cannot sell estray until six months after the same was taken up and first advertised. Three months if hogs or sheep. Send the county clerk fifty cents for certificate of authority to sell.

Make notice of your intention to sell and mail it to the county clerk to be posted at the court house door.

You cannot sell estray until after ten days from date of county clerk's certificate of authority to sell.

You cannot sell estray until six months after same was first taken up and first advertised. Three months if hogs or sheep.

You must sell estray within twelve months from time it was taken up. Six months if hogs or sheep.

You must sell estray at front door of the court house in county seat between 12 and 2 o'clock p. m., on Monday, the first day of the next term of the county court.

Keep strict account of your expense.

Law allows your expense to be only what you pay the county clerk, newspaper and auctioneer.

You may come to the county clerk and sell the estray or you can have someone else do it for you.

After you sell the estray deduct your expense, pay half of the balance to the county treasurer, and close the case with the county clerk.

If at any time the owner should claim the estray let him make affidavit of ownership before a justice of the peace of your county.

Justice of the peace will issue to him certificate of ownership, describing the animal.

If the certificate of ownership describes the animal in your possession and the owner gives you the certificate and pays your expense and for your trouble, then give him the estray and mail the certificate of ownership to the county clerk, which will close the case.—Pulse News.

Malaria: ITS CAUSE AND CURE

(From Wilmer Atkinson's Farm Journal)

In the vicinity of low or marshy or new land, malaria is most prevalent, and folks used to think that the air from such lands was the cause of the disease. But parasites of "chills and fever," ague, malaria, marsh fever (different names for the same thing) have not been found in the water or air of marshes, nor in decaying vegetation, nor in the soil, although they have been diligently searched for. Attempts to produce infection by these agencies have always failed. The mosquitoes which carry these parasites, however, breed in marshes or in marshy pools or streams.

Issuing from these breeding places they enter nearby houses and feed upon the inmates, mostly at night, biting first one person and then others, and living for weeks or months.

If an infected person happens to be present in any of these houses, the anopheline mosquito biting him will also become infected, and the disease is likely, ultimately, to be carried by these mosquitoes to others and to neighboring houses.

Thus a whole neighborhood soon becomes infected, and the locality is called malarious. But—but a locality is malarious only when it contains persons infected with the parasites, and also sufficient numbers of the proper species of mosquitoes to carry the infection to the healthy persons.

The cure is simple: Drain the land and destroy all stagnant-water breeding places of mosquitoes; screen houses, rain-barrels, cisterns, etc.; pour kerosene on pools that cannot be drained, or stock them with fish.

PASSING THE HAT

Passing the hat, passing the hat! Someone forever gets busy at that! Oh, it seems useless to struggle and strain, all our endeavor is hopeless and vain; when we have gathered a small slender roll, hoping to lay in some cordwood or coal, hoping to purchase some flour and some spuds, hoping to pay for the ready-made duds, hoping to purchase a bone for the cat, someone comes cheerfully passing the hat! Passing the hat that the bums may be warm, passing the hat for some noble reform, passing the hat for the fellows who fall, passing the hat to remodel the jail, passing the bonnet for this or for that, someone forever is passing the hat! Dig up your bundle and hand out your roll—if you don't give you are lacking a soul! What if the feet of your children are bare? What if your wife has no corset to wear? What if your granny is weeping for shoes? What if the grocer's demanding his dues? Someone will laugh at such logic as that, someone who's merrily passing the hat! Passing the hat for the pink lemonade, passing the hat for a moral crusade, passing the hat to extinguish the rat—someone forever is passing the hat! —Walt Mason.

COULD SCARCELY WALK ABOUT

And For Three Summers Mrs. Vincent Was Unable to Attend to Any of Her Housework.

Pleasant Hill, N. C.—"I suffered for three summers," writes Mrs. Walter Vincent, of this town, "and the third and last time, was my worst."

I had dreadful nervous headaches and prostration, and was scarcely able to walk about. Could not do any of my housework.

I also had dreadful pains in my back and sides and when one of those weak, shivering spells would come on me, I would have to give up and lie down, until it wore off.

I was certainly in a dreadful state of health, when I finally decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I firmly believe I would have died if I hadn't taken it.

After I began taking Cardui, I was greatly helped, and all three bottles relieved me entirely.

I fattened up, and grew so much stronger in three months, I felt like another person altogether."

Cardui is purely vegetable and gentle-acting. Its ingredients have a mild, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardui makes for increased strength, improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, sallow cheeks, fresh and rosy.

Cardui has helped more than a million weak women, during the past 50 years. It will surely do for you, what it has done for them. Try Cardui today.

Write to: Chattanooga Medicine Co., Letter-Advisory Dept., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Cardui. In-structions on your case and 64-page book, "Hints for Women," sent in plain wrapper. 1-10
